CBJ expands free parking availability downtown

Parking downtown is about to get a little easier. Starting July 1, free off-street hourly parking will begin at 4 p.m., instead of 6 p.m., Monday through Friday. As always, parking is free on the weekends.

The change applies to the Shopper's Lot (corner of Main Street and Egan Drive), Downtown Transportation Center Parking Garage (on Main Street), North Franklin Lot (corner of Second Street and North Franklin Street) and the Marine Parking Garage (Marine Way below the Downtown Public Library).

"We hope this will increase parking availability in the downtown core. Most people who have permit parking in the garages are doing so because they need it for the workday. Most people's workday ends between 4 and 5, and as they leave, it makes sense to allow others to park in those spots," Deputy City Manager Mila Cosgrove said.

Between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., you are still required to pay to park or purchase a permit in these areas.

There is no change to on-street parking rules. On-street parking in the Downtown Parking Management Zone is still limited to two hours until 6 p.m. The change also doesn't apply to the Docks and Harbors parking spaces in the Taku Lot near Twisted Fish.
