This has been prepared by the Sales Tax Office to assist merchants in the interpretation, qualification, and documentation of the most commonly granted sales tax exemptions. As a merchant, you are required to be familiar with each exemption and to determine if your customer meets the qualification for exemption. As a merchant, you should also be aware that granting sales tax exemptions improperly may cause you to incur the sales tax liability for the sale including penalties and interest.

Exemption 2 – Prohibited by State or Federal Law: This sales tax exemption includes sales prohibited from taxation because of federal or state restriction, such as WIC and sales paid for by food stamps or under the SNAP program. These sales are exempted separately from sales made to a government unit. (For sales made to a government unit, please see Exemption 13 below).

Exemption 3 - Goods Sold Out-of-Borough: You must document that the customer sent in the order and payment from outside the city and borough via mail, phone or email and you must document the shipping out of the city and borough by mail, freight bill or shipping receipt. The Sales Tax Office suggests you develop a phone log to document phone orders.

Exemption 12 - Nonprofit organizations: This is only for organizations that qualify for a Section 501c (3) or 501c (4) nonprofit status with the IRS and are registered as such with the Sales Tax Office. Nonprofit organizations can purchase a Nonprofit Exemption Certificate from the Sales Tax Office. The application fee is $20.00. The exemption certificate bears a 3-digit exemption number, and this number is the required documentation. The Sales Tax Office suggests for repeat nonprofit customers that the merchant maintain a copy of the nonprofit exemption certificate on file. A listing of qualifying nonprofit organizations is available from the Sales Tax Office.

Exemption 13 – Governments: This is for purchases by the Federal government, State of Alaska, and municipal governments. Individuals who purchase with their own funds for later government reimbursement may not take this exemption. Only direct sales paid by government check, government Purchase Order, or specified government credit cards qualify. Document the Purchase Order as the required documentation. For credit card purchases, certain portions of the credit card number must be documented by the merchant. For additional information on the qualifying governmental credit cards and documentation requirements, please contact the CBJ Sales Tax Office.

Exemption 18 - Senior citizen cards: Senior citizens who display a valid CBJ Senior Citizen Exemption card at purchase qualify. Senior cards issued by other municipalities will not be valid for CBJ purchases. The Senior Citizen Exemption card must be purchased from the CBJ Sales Tax Office. The card cost is $20.00 per card. The replacement fee for lost cards is $5.00 per card. Only the person who is actually issued the card may use it for exempt purposes. For example, a husband may not use a wife's card. Purchases must be for the senior's own personal consumption. Seniors only qualify for exemption at the point of sale on purchases of grocery foods, electricity, heating fuel, CBJ Water/Sewer and garbage collection. The card number (format SNR-XXXXX) and cardholder's signature is the required documentation. Merchants are required to see the senior's exemption card, not just ask the senior to provide their number.

Exemption 32 - Sales of Goods for Resale: Individuals or companies with a valid CBJ resale of goods certificate may purchase goods for resale if the material is the type of goods they are in the business of selling. Merchants must apply for a resale certificate and pay the applicable fees each year through the sales tax office. The face of the card states the business name, type of business activity, and the types of purchases which the business is authorized to make for resale. The card number (R-15-XXXXX for calendar year 2015) is the required documentation. For customers you bill on account, you may keep a copy of the resale of goods certificate on file instead of viewing the card for each purchase. However, you are responsible for verifying that the types of goods purchased correspond to the categories listed on the face of the card. Note: This card may not be used for purchases of services for resale.
